What does the BMHA do?

The BMHA provides housing assistance to low-income families with children, senior citizens and individuals with disabilities.

- The BMHA owns and manages 27 developments and 4,307 housing units in the city of Buffalo.¹ BMHA is also a partner in several privately managed developments.²
- Section 8 Housing Assistance Program. The BMHA also distributes 1,372 housing vouchers through the Section 8 Voucher

Program in Buffalo.³ This federally funded program assists low-income families by subsidizing a portion of their monthly rent and providing a utility allowance. It provides direct payments to landlords and covers the difference between what can be reasonably afforded by the tenant and reasonable rental charges of the landlord. To qualify for the program, a family must meet the low-income guidelines set by HUD, and rental units must meet Housing Quality Standards and local codes and pass an inspection by the BMHA.⁴

- In BMHA and Section 8 housing, the resident's rent is never more than 30% of his or her gross income.⁵
- The BMHA also presents job training and educational opportunities for tenants, often on-site, in collaboration with social service agencies.⁶

What is the BMHA's mission?

“To assist our residents in attaining and maintaining a high standard for their quality of life. The Buffalo Municipal Housing Authority will provide services and opportunities associated with affordable, desirable, and secure housing to individuals and families. We will provide customer service, programs and amenities which are the best possible.”⁷

The BMHA also has a number of goals:

- To provide safe, clean, affordable housing to residents of the City of Buffalo that will be considered housing of choice.
- To encourage and participate in strategic redevelopment of city's neighborhoods.
- To offer all residents equal access to desirable housing and communities.
- To foster a sense of purpose and pride that will encourage family self-sufficiency.
- To encourage tenant participation and involvement in BMHA operations and services as well as providing access to entrepreneurial development and employment opportunities.⁸

When was the BMHA established?

The BMHA was established on April 3, 1934, pursuant to a resolution of the Common Council of the City of Buffalo.⁹ The New York Legislature then confirmed the BMHA's creation and establishment.¹⁰

Who runs the BMHA?

The BMHA is run by a Board of Commissioners, which currently consists of seven members.¹¹ Past members have hailed from the ranks of business, clergy, banking, labor, the professions and civic groups.¹² The Board elects a Board Chair and Vice Chair each year.¹³

How are the Board Members elected/appointed?

Five Board members are appointed by the mayor. These members serve for five years, with one term expiring every year (so that there is one new Board member appointed every year). The other two members are elected at-large from the tenant population.¹⁴ These members serve two-year terms; the two current Resident Commissioners were elected in June 2008.

What laws control the BMHA?

The BMHA must operate in compliance with a broad range of federal, state, and city laws.

How can a resident apply for housing through the BMHA?

The process will include the following steps³⁶ :

- Residents must fill out an application that will be placed on file.
- The BMHA will send an offer letter informing the applicant about the development options available and the estimated waiting periods for each development.
- Applicants may choose which wait list they want to be placed on. An applicant can change which wait list they want to be on, but their name will be entered onto the new wait list on the day the applicant decides to change.
- BMHA is not an emergency housing program.³⁷ There is no guarantee of placement within any time period and all placements are made from waiting lists as openings occur.³⁸ “Extended waiting periods are the norm.”³⁹
- If your application is rejected, Neighborhood Legal Services can give you information on how to appeal your case or may agree to represent you in your appeal.⁴⁰ You can contact NLS at 847-0650 Mondays – Fridays between 9:00 a.m. and 12:00 p.m.⁴¹
