EMPLOYMENT, WORKPLACE PRACTICES AND LABOR-MANAGEMENT RELATIONS IN WESTERN NEW YORK

A STUDY CONDUCTED BY THE WESTERN REGION OF CORNELL UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF INDUSTRIAL AND LABOR RELATIONS IN COOPERATION WITH THE

WNY AFL-CIO ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT GROUP AND BUFFALO NIAGARA ENTERPRISE WITH THE SUPPORT OF THE WESTERN NEW YORK STATE LEGISLATIVE DELEGATION AND THE ASSEMBLY SPEAKER.

DEDICATED TO ALL THE PEOPLE WHO DO THE WORK IN OUR COMMUNITY, DAY IN AND DAY OUT.

Advancing the World of Work

By Lou Jean Fleron, Howard Stanger, and Eileen Patton

Assisted by Richard Lipsitz Jr., Charles Whalen, Philip Wilcox, Diane Luzi, Victoria Valenti, Martin Crisp, Cliff Suggs, Art Wheaton, Gerald Skrzeczkowski, Mark Jones, Tom Wisniewski, Christine Kroetsch, Heather Jordan, Mary Ellen O'Neil, and Yvonne Rebholz.

Survey research conducted by The Computer-Assisted Survey Team (CAST) of Cornell University.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This project itself proves the power of a good idea, the effectiveness of teamwork, and the constructive potential of community cooperation. Many individuals and organizations share the credit for its success, as it took on a dynamic that became ever more inclusive as we went along. We hope we have left no one out for their contributions to date, and we welcome other ideas and future support for this dynamic initiative to continue to improve the complex world of work in our region.

WE GRATEFULLY ACKNOWLEDGE. . . .

Our colleagues at Cornell University School of Industrial and Labor Relations, in the Western Region, around the state and on campus in Ithaca, especially the reference librarians at Martin Catherwood Library, especially Stuart Basefsky, Suzanne Cohen and Deborah Joseph.

The original founding members of the innovative AFL-CIO Economic Development Group, especially the leadership team of Kevin Donovan, Philip Wilcox and Richard Lipsitz, Jr.

The former and current leaders and staff of Buffalo Niagara Enterprise, who are engaging the whole community in its economic development, especially Thomas Kucharski, President/CEO, Christina Ponticello Orsi, Director of Business Development and Robert MacKenzie, Former President.

Local and state public officials who supported this project not only with their endorsement but also with a grant from the New York State Department of Education, especially Paul A. Tokasz, Sam Hoyt, Arthur O. Eve, Robin L. Schimminger, Mary Lou Rath, Richard A. Smith, Dale M. Volker, William T. Stachowski, and Sheldon Silver.

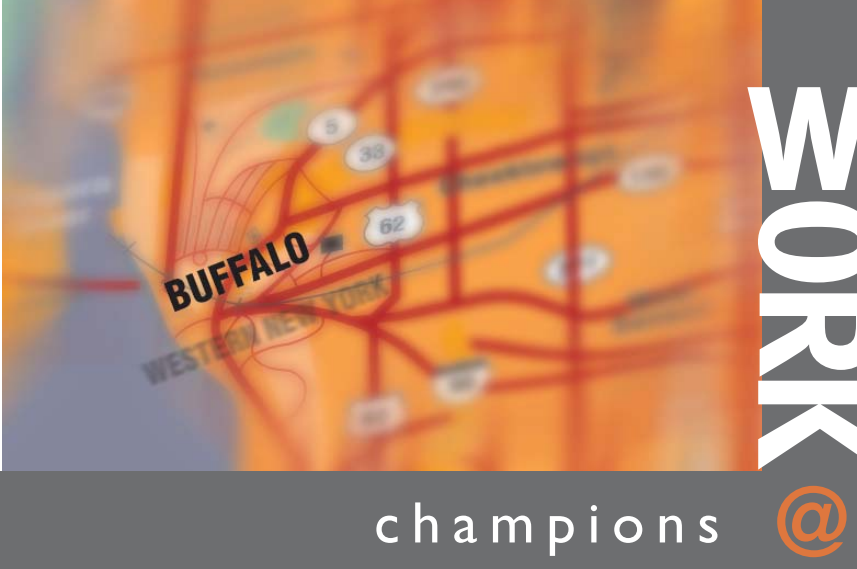

The hundreds of very busy people at work in Western New York who took the time to participate in the survey of workplace practices and labor relations and to provide essential information in the research on the case studies.

The Computer-Assisted Research Team (CAST), a full-service survey research facility at Cornell University, for their outstanding job in advising and conducting the survey, collecting and analyzing the data; we are especially grateful to Yasamin DiCiccio, CAST Director, and Lisa Horn, Manager, for their meticulous, professional attention to this project.

Officials at Niagara Mohawk who provided support for the activities of the AFL-CIO Economic Development Group and for the case study research aspects of this project, especially Dennis Gleason, Susan Swarts, and Tina Vishion.

The creative staff of Sassy Graphics, who designed and produced this report, especially Sherry Sutton and Andalyn Bardo, who cheerfully and professionally incorporated idea after idea into the final product.

For more information on the project team and the many people who assisted in this project, please see the Directory of Resources. We extend credit and gratitude to all. Of course, errors and weaknesses in the project we keep as our own.
